EIS is developed by ICTCO at Epoka University. From the user interface, EIS is an online interactive system where users can log in using the provided official email account. All users have access to their personal information, can update general details and CV and they can manage job related tasks and activities according to their role and job position.

- Students: Students in their profile can access their personal information and information related to their study program. Course registration is done through the system and after that, students can view the ongoing academic activity of the registered courses during the semester. They can check attendance, exam dates, interim grades and final grades. zone” for financial or academic issues. It empowers students to create course plans to ensure timely graduation.

- Instructors: Academic staff, including full-time and part-time lecturers can have access to their courses assigned in the current semester and can also view previously assigned courses. Lecturers can update the syllabus, complete student attendance, assign and finalize grades. - Human Resources: The Human resources office can manage all staff information data and assign roles and job positions for each staff member.
- Curriculum: a website containing information related to study programs, curriculum and course syllabus.

All users have access to their personalized reports according to their roles and respective units. Faculties and units are liberated from tedious manual tasks. EIS supplies them with new and most updated information that will empower them to make informed decisions based on data.

EIS can be continuously updated with new modules according to the university’s needs. EIS can be accessed via: <https://eis.epoka.edu.al> and users can log-in by their Epoka Mail account credentials.

Library

The EPOKA University Library, which is located on the first floor of A- Building in the EPOKA University Campus, was founded to support the education and research activities of the university by providing and organizing the needed documents. With its 100-seating capacity, our library has a 400 square meters area of use. Our University Library is composed of an entrance, book and reading hall. In the entrance, there is a check out desk. The periodicals, including the exhibition of new arrivals, are also shelved in this section. The reading hall is equipped for students to study and to do research. EPOKA University is a member of the Balkan Libraries Union which was founded on 29 July 2009 with the participation of 10 institutions from 6 Balkan countries. Our library collection is enriched by purchases and donations. The books to buy are chosen in accordance with the needs and requests of the students, administrative and academic staff. Under the Department of Library and Documentation, the library has a total of about 7500 printed books.

Digital Databases

EPOKA University has full membership in JSTOR, a shared digital library created in 1995 that includes more than 2,000 academic journals. JSTOR was founded to help libraries and academic publishers transition their activities from print to digital operations, to expand access to scholarly content around the world and to preserve it for future generations. Every member of EPOKA staff can access JSTOR's collections by going to <http://www.jstor.org/> and searching or browsing for content.

Using the Library

Our library works on an open shelf system enabling you to reach the books directly. The books in the open shelves are topically sorted in the book hall according to the LC classification method. To find the book you are looking for, you should follow these steps:

1. Through the catalog search computers in the library; you can search author name, book name, and publisher, topic, or keyword areas.
2. To get the book, you can go to the shelves with the classification and location numbers of the books appearing on the screen as a result of your search.

Regulations

Students of the Associate Degree, Bachelor's Degree, and Master's Programs, and academic and administrative personnel are members of the library. They can borrow library materials in accordance with the rules. Researchers coming from outside the university are not lent books, they are only allowed to use and copy the materials in the library. Readers in this group are requested to fill up the related form Lending Service.

1. Strengthening the Rights of National Minorities in Albania: Bridging Domestic Legal Frameworks with International Human Rights Commitments

Researchers Dr. Heliona Bellani, Prof. Assoc. Dr. Bojana Hajdini, and Dr. Niuton Mulleti, in collaboration with Prof. Assoc. Dr. Damigela Hoxha from the University of Bologna, are pleased to announce the successful completion of our Open Forum, “Strengthening the Rights of National Minorities in Albania: Bridging Domestic Legal Frameworks with International Human Rights Commitments.”. Held on November 11, 2024, with support from the READ program, AADF, and the Institute of International Education, this forum provided an invaluable platform for dialogue on enhancing the legal protections for minorities in Albania.

At the Open Forum, we were honored by the participation and support of our institutional leaders and distinguished guests. Our appreciation goes to Mr. Robert Gajda, Commissioner for Protection from Discrimination, for his insightful discussion on the Commissioner’s role in promoting equality and combating discrimination against minorities. We were further honored by contributions from Prof. Assoc. Dr. Sonila Boçi, Prof. Assoc. ### 2. Gender Equality: From Myth to Reality

In honor of International Women’s Day, EPOKA University hosted an engaging open forum titled Gender Equality: From Myth to Reality, on March 6, 2025. The event featured Ms. Adena Vangjeli, Executive Director of the Center for Gender Justice in Albania, and Dr. Eglantina Farruku, Lecturer at the Department of Law; organized by the Epoka Student Club Human Rights and Women's Leadership, in collaboration with the Department of Law.

Key Highlights of the Forum

The forum critically examined the gap between the ideal of gender equality and the realities of persistent inequality. Ms. Vangjeli presented compelling data and insights, emphasizing the importance of overcoming institutional biases, cultural stereotypes, and power dynamics to achieve true equality in workplaces, education, and society.

Insights

Definition of Gender Equality: According to the Council of Europe, gender equality means the visibility, empowerment, and participation of both sexes in all spheres of public and private life. It involves recognizing and valuing the differences between men and women while addressing social status, public opinion, religious beliefs, ethnicity, race, or sexual orientation.

Global Commitment to Equality: In 2015, 193 UN member states approved the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), with Goal 5 focusing on achieving gender equality and empowering women and girls worldwide by 2030.

Alarming Statistics in Albania:

- 52.9% of Albanian women have experienced one or more forms of violence during their lifetime.
- 36.6% of women are currently experiencing violence.
- Only 19.1% of private properties are registered in the names of women, while 80.9% belong to men.
- A mere 8% of women own land.

Challenges in Reporting Violence:

- 13.6% of the population lacks trust in the police.
- 43.5% do not trust the prosecution's work.
- 45.9% have no confidence in the judiciary.

Economic assistance for domestic violence victims is minimal, around 10,000 lekë per month. Perpetrators often receive lenient sentences, with 80% of convictions not exceeding six months of imprisonment.

Call to Action

Ms. Vangjeli emphasized the need for practical, evidence-based strategies to foster inclusivity and equity in organizational settings. She called on institutions and communities to address these disparities and support victims of violence through enhanced legal protections and economic support.

The forum concluded with a vibrant discussion, allowing participants to share their experiences and propose actionable solutions to bridge the gender equality gap. The event marked a significant step toward raising awareness and promoting meaningful change within Albanian society.
